

Kitchen Door A Todd Humphries Restaurant

Previously located in the magnificent Oxbow Public Market, Kitchen Door has settled into its new home on First Street in downtown Napa. Already a staple in the community with its global cuisine and seasonal menu, the new location is welcomed with enthusiasm. The wood-fired oven is used to make their sought-after pizzas in addition to other culinary delights. Furthermore, Kitchen Door creates specialty dishes from Thailand, Vietnam, Italy, and America, to name a few, making it a quintessential wine country dining destination. “Paying homage to California and local producers alongside selected global offerings, guests can enjoy the bounty of Napa Valley wineries and beyond,” said co-founder and chef Todd Humphries. Open the red door and enjoy the warm and inviting interior, bar, and patio with a touch of rustic character.
